Dear student

Courses affected by the coronavirus outbreak

Thank you for enrolling on a course starting after Easter 2020 and making a commitment to your lifelong learning and personal development. Due to the coronavirus outbreak and the Government order to close schools and colleges until further notice, unfortunately, your course may not be able to start as originally planned.

We are currently reviewing the affected curriculum and working with our academic teams to establish whether courses can be delivered remotely via online learning or whether postponing to a later date is a better alternative. We will contact you at the earliest opportunity to inform you about specific options.

We appreciate your patience with us at this time. If you have already contacted us, there is no need to check if we have received your email. Doing this is likely to cause delays in our efforts to prepare further information regarding your course.

Thank you for your patience during this difficult time.
